

Company Private Medical Insurance

In today's competitive marketplace employee benefits have emerged as essential tools used by companies to attract, incentivise and retain key staff members. A company provided private medical insurance ("PMI") scheme can provide an important element of such benefits, and can also help minimise absence and maximise productivity. Fewer days get lost to sickness and healthier, happier employees are able to perform more effectively.

Thousands of businesses recognise company health insurance is a cost effective way of adding value to a pay package, and showing staff that management care about their well-being. However, the diverse nature of businesses means that one size does not fit all. Whether you're a sole trader, small business or international company, Vantage can help you design a group company PMI plan based on the specific needs of your business.

As an independent insurance broker, Vantage has access to a wide range of PMI insurers, schemes and policies and can assist in ensuring your plan matches the level and type of care you require.

Our extensive experience, market knowledge and relationships with the leading healthcare insurers means we can find the medical policy that's perfect for you. It is not just about looking for cheap health insurance, but cover that offers real value by taking into account your requirements, lifestyle, budget and your particular needs and wants.

You may already have some form of corporate health insurance scheme in place which you might want to review, enhance or replace. Our free, no obligation appraisal will assist you in ensuring that you have the most cost-effective protection in place. Contact Vantage Insurance today on +44 (0)1534 706529 for an initial meeting.
